 4. They may never get off the bus at all
- A School Bus Driver who becomes aware that a student has boarded the wrong vehicle should notify their dispatch immediately with the student's name, the School the student attends, and wait for direction from Dispatch.
 - Dispatch shall contact the School the student attends as soon as possible and advise them we have the student(s) on an incorrect route.
 - If this occurs on the way to School dispatch should advise the School Bus Driver to keep the student(s) on the bus, continue on with the route and then transport the student(s) to their correct School after they have completed their regular route.
 - If this occurs on the way home from School and a student has boarded the wrong bus the dispatch shall notify the School immediately. Arrangements should then be made to ensure the student(s) is(are) either returned to the School or transported to the usual drop off point.
